Rating Rationale

Balance Sheet Strength: Strong

- Combined A&H Group's balance sheet strength assessment of strong is based on the strong level of risk-adjusted capitalization at year-end 2024 and at the third quarter of 2025 as measured by Best's Capital Adequacy Ratio (BCAR) at the 99.6% VaR confidence level, as well as other mildly positive quantitative and qualitative considerations.
- The group has a strong liquidity position with short and long ratios at 999% and 466.4%, respectively.
- The investment portfolio is viewed as high quality, with a nominal allocation to below-investment-grade bonds.

Operating Performance: Strong

- Combined A&H Group's earnings have been volatile in recent years, reflecting prior-year changes in its reinsurance program, pandemic-period impacts on its business volume and expense structure, and the group's subsequent exit from its vision plan business.
- The group reported significantly strengthened earnings in the first nine months of 2025, as compared with the prior year, as a result of reduced underwriting losses.
- Reduced premium volume in recent years primarily reflects the group's exit from its vision plan program.
- Excluding the impact of the change in reinsurance, the group's earnings have historically been positive and supportive of very strong rates of return.

Business Profile: Neutral

- Combined A&H Group is a leading underwriter and distributor of specialty individual and group accident, disability, health and life insurance products throughout the United States and Canada.
- The group is a leading provider of supplemental insurance products; however, increased competition may challenge future growth.
- Overall, the group's product portfolio is viewed as having an average risk profile, although the group previously offered a number of products that AM Best views to be higher risk, including long-term care and Medicare supplement.

Enterprise Risk Management: Appropriate

- Risk management is integrated into the consolidated risk management framework of its parent organization.
- Its ultimate parent, Chubb Limited, maintains a comprehensive risk management framework that is in line with the expectations for a group of its scope.
- Combined A&H Group's risk profile is elevated by the exposure to certain higher-risk products but is offset by the diversification of its products and the mix of long- and short-tailed liabilities.

Rating Lift/Drag

- Combined A&H Group receives rating enhancement from its ultimate parent organization, Chubb Limited, due to its strategic role in supporting the organization's Global A&H segment.

Outlook

- The stable outlooks reflect AM Best's expectation that Combined A&H Group will continue to generate strong operating earnings, contributing to internal capital generation that will continue to support a strong balance sheet assessment. The stable outlooks further reflect AM Best's expectation that the group will continue to maintain its strategic importance to ultimate parent Chubb Limited.

Rating Drivers

- A decrease in the strategic importance and materiality of the group to the ultimate parent organization could result in negative rating action.
- Unfavorable trends in net premiums and operating earnings could result in negative rating action.

- Material and sustained improvement in risk-adjusted capitalization could result in positive rating action.

Asset Liability Management - Investments

Combined A&H Group's investment portfolio is allocated almost entirely in high quality fixed income securities, with the remainder held in cash and short-term assets. The bond portfolio maintains a well-diversified portfolio of corporate bonds and government agency securities in the U.S. and Canada, and is viewed as higher credit quality relative to the industry. Additionally, AM Best notes that the company does not have any exposure to higher risk asset classes like equities or alternative assets. However, the portfolio maintains holdings in other government bonds, which are rated below investment grade and expose the portfolio to political and currency risk.

Operating Performance

Combined A&H Group's earnings have been volatile in recent years, reflecting prior-year changes in its reinsurance program, pandemic-period impacts on its business volume and expense structure, and the company's subsequent exit from its vision plan business. The group reported significantly strengthened earnings in the first nine months of 2025, as compared with the prior year, as a result of reduced underwriting losses. Reduced premium volume in recent years primarily reflects the company's exit from its vision plan program. Excluding the impact of reinsurance changes in prior years, the group's underwriting income had been consistently positive through 2022. Recent underwriting losses come from the group operating under a high expense structure due to its distribution model, causing underwriting earnings pressure in the near to medium term.

Enterprise Risk Management

Risk management for Combined A&H Group is integrated into the enterprise risk management framework of its ultimate parent, Chubb Limited. The global framework is the responsibility of Chubb's ERM Board (ERMB) which is comprised of senior management and is implemented both at the divisional and aggregate level with appropriate risk mitigation programs. The ERM program is guided by the measurement, management, and mitigation of insurance risk, financial risk, strategic risk, and operational risk across all lines of business.

Environmental, Social & Governance

As a diversified global property/casualty insurer and reinsurer, writing virtually all personal, commercial and specialty lines of business on a worldwide basis, with operations and investments also spread globally, environmental, social and governance (ESG) is a meaningful consideration with respect to Chubb's global operational and credit profile. As a property insurer and reinsurer, Chubb's underwriting operations are sensitive to environmentally-sensitive global climate change trends over time, most notably to natural weather-related and wildfire-catastrophes in the US and overseas in its personal, commercial and agricultural lines operations, as well as to environmental pollution and in both its property and liability business lines, including insurance and reinsurance. Some of these exposures also respond to its operations in the global A&H business, which are focused primarily on travel-related and non-medical supplemental health coverages. As a significant liability insurer, Chubb also has exposure to socially-sensitive litigation trends and reputational risks. AM Best believes that Chubb has a well-considered and diligent process for managing its ESG-related exposures, and management has over time modified its underwriting and investment risk-appetite and guidelines to control its risk aggregations. Furthermore, AM Best believes that the company carefully monitors the product segments and international markets in which it participates - both as an underwriter and investor - in order to actively manage its enterprise-wide exposure to a diverse array of ESG-related exposures.

Rating Lift/Drag

The ratings of Combined A&H Group reflect ratings lift from its ultimate parent Chubb Limited, recognizing the implicit and explicit support provided to its operating subsidiaries and the significance of the Global A&H segment to Chubb's worldwide operations.

A Best's Financial Strength Rating opinion addresses the relative ability of an insurer to meet its ongoing insurance obligations. The ratings are not assigned to specific insurance policies or contracts and do not address any other risk, including, but not limited to, an insurer's claims-payment policies or procedures; the ability of the insurer to dispute or deny claims payment on grounds of misrepresentation or fraud; or any specific liability contractually borne by the policy or contract holder. A Financial Strength Rating is not a recommendation to purchase, hold or terminate any insurance policy, contract or any other financial obligation issued by an insurer, nor does it address the suitability of any particular policy or contract for a specific purpose or purchaser.

A Best's Issue/Issuer Credit Rating is an opinion regarding the relative future credit risk of an entity, a credit commitment or a debt or debt-like security.

Credit risk is the risk that an entity may not meet its contractual, financial obligations as they come due. These credit ratings do not address any other risk, including but not limited to liquidity risk, market value risk or price volatility of rated securities. The rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold any securities, insurance policies, contracts or any other financial obligations, nor does it address the suitability of any particular financial obligation for a specific purpose or purchaser.
