Rating Rationale

Balance Sheet Strength: Very Strong

- The HCSC Medicare & Supplemental Group has a Best's Capital Adequacy Ratio (BCAR) in the strongest category that AM Best expects will be bolstered and supported to maintain the group's balance sheet metrics at favorable levels.
- In addition, capital and surplus growth has historically been supported by fluctuating underwriting results and investment income across most of the entities in the group.
- These entities maintain a prudent and diversified investment portfolio with good credit quality. Nearly all invested assets are held in investment-grade fixed-income securities. AM Best notes that the organization also holds sizable receivables from the federal government related to its Medicare business. Net cash flow from operations remains favorable.
- Liquidity measures remain adequate and are strengthened by access at the lead entity, Health Care Service Corporation (HCSC).

Operating Performance: Marginal

- The HCSC Medicare & Supplemental Group will contribute to net premium growth in core target markets for the organization, driven by membership growth across its suite of product offerings.
- Premium growth is expected to continue for all of these lines and help the broader organization offset attrition in its Medicaid line of business, as Medicare-related business has grown and is expected to continue this trend.
- Consolidated underwriting and net income trends have been very challenged by changes to Medicare reimbursement the past few years. Underwriting performance has been unfavorable driven by a higher-than-expected medical cost trend across the majority of its lines of business, and this trend is expected to continue in 2026. Management of its STAR ratings and risk payment across its various Medicare Advantage plans will be paramount as a part of improving future performance.
- Profitability measures have been pressured recently for Medicare Advantage writers; however, the other supplemental products should modestly help provide a natural hedge as these products typically have been more stable.
- Investment income has been steady and has meaningfully contributed to net earnings.

Business Profile: Neutral

- HCSC Medicare & Supplemental Group offers Medicare Advantage, Medicare Part D and Medicare Supplement products in numerous states that are outside of the parent's core market.
- The group has exhibited consistent membership growth in its main markets driven by both government, primarily Medicare Advantage, Medicare Supplement, and Medicare Part D, and other supplemental A&H offerings, which should complement and bolster its diversification.
- While competition remains strong in all lines of business, the new entities should help the organization continue to compete well. Given the association with Health Care Service Corporation and its Blue Cross Blue Shield businesses provides a significant competitive advantage for both network relationships and consumer outreach, this should further help with expansion of these business lines.

Enterprise Risk Management: Appropriate

- The ERM program will be integrated and managed at the ultimate parent level at HCSC, and it is well developed with a comprehensive risk identification, monitoring, mitigation, and oversight process. The program is evolving to expand the risk assessment process by engaging employees at all levels of the organization.
- Governance includes oversight from the executive leadership team, ERM Steering Committee and the Board of Directors of HCSC.
- HCSC's group-wide stress testing is designed to capture significant risk events, and emerging risks are constantly monitored. Further, the organization performs multiple stress scenario testing to determine the impact on risk-adjusted capitalization. Risk appetite and tolerances extend to various areas of the organization, including operations, strategy, execution and financial condition. Stress and scenario testing is performed annually, and results are included in the Own Risk and Solvency Assessment (ORSA) report.

Rating Lift/Drag

- These entities will be managed under a newly formed intermediate holding company, HCSC Medicare Holdings Inc., with a consolidated cost structure that should lead to improved profitability and economies of scale.

- The HCSC Medicare & Supplemental Group will expand HCSC's geographic presence and diversification with the addition of business outside of its core Blue states.
- Additionally, the new membership base and revenues will aid in providing additional scale and capabilities to HCSC's Medicare Advantage and supplemental health segments.
- The overall HCSC organization will grow financially through future revenue and earnings expansion, and operationally through a broader national footprint with deeper product penetration.
- These entities will also immediately contribute to HCSC's Medicare Advantage growth and market share, which has been a goal over the past few years.

Outlook

- The stable outlooks reflect AM Best's expectation that the group will maintain the very strong balance sheet strength assessment, supported by the favorable enhancement the group provides to HCSC's overall market position in its core Medicare-related markets, as well as the scale and future profitability of its total business.

Rating Drivers

- While unlikely, positive rating movement could occur with continued strengthening of balance sheet strength metrics and operating performance.
- Negative rating movement could occur from lack of operational and financial support from the ultimate parent, Health Care Service Corporation.
- Negative rating movement could occur if there is deterioration of balance sheet metrics, particularly the risk-adjusted capitalization.

Credit Analysis

Balance Sheet Strength

Capitalization

HCSC Medicare & Supplemental group maintains sound capital position at over $2.5 billion and stable risk-adjusted capital levels as measured by its Best's Capital Adequacy Ratio (BCAR). The BCAR has been initially calculated at the strongest level based on projections. The 2024 year-end BCAR was at the strongest level, over 38% at the 99.6 VaR level and the 2025 BCAR dropped in the early part of the year, based on premium growth from novated business from the Cigna acquisition. However, it is projected that with the anticipated parental support throughout this year that the BCAR is expected to improve for the full year-end reported 2025.

While capitalization was previously managed at lower levels for some HCSC Medicare & Supplemental Group entities, capital levels have been bolstered throughout 2025. HCSC has committed to fund additional capital in the future to support growth, novated business and additional projected acquisition related costs and operating losses. HCSC Medicare & Supplemental Group's BCAR is projected to remain at the strongest level in the near-term.

Over the last few years, capitalization has grown organically, outpacing premium growth driven by retained earnings. Underwriting leverage, as measured by its NPW/C&S ratio of 3.6 times, is within normal ranges, but could increase in 2025 with additional premium expansion. The growth of capital and surplus has kept pace with the growth of premium through year-end 2024 across these group's entities on a consolidated basis. Capital growth in the near-term is expected mainly from capital contributions from its ultimate parent, Health Care Service Corp (HCSC).

Asset Liability Management - Investments

Invested assets are managed at the parent company level. The investment policy is evaluated regularly and the investment portfolio is monitored for quality and liquidity on an ongoing basis. Investments are managed by external firms with long-term relationships. The organization works closely with investment managers to balance performance while preserving capital under dynamic conditions. AM Best notes that given its primary operations in the Medicare Advantage space, the organization holds sizable receivables from the Federal government related to this business. Net cash flow from operations remains very favorable.

The group mainly invests in fixed-income securities, with nearly all in investment grade bonds, and average credit quality remains very strong. While the group does maintain a higher allocation to NAIC 2's the exposure to higher-risk assets has decreased as, below investment grade holdings in NAIC Class 3 and 4 bonds declined to approximately 1.5% of the fixed-income portfolio in 2024, compared to 11% 2023, and almost 20% the year prior. Over 76% of bonds are publicly placed and 22% are private. Bonds are well diversified by sector. Overall duration relatively stable at 3 - 5 years over the past five-year period.

Operating Performance

The HCSC Medicare & Supplemental group is expected to have a favorable impact on net premium expansion in core target markets for HCSC, driven by membership growth across the suite of product offerings. This should help the broader organization offset attrition in its Medicaid line of business, as growth in the Medicare-related business is expected to continue. While Medicare Advantage (MA) business has been challenged the past couple years, HCSC has shown an historical ability to re-price various business lines to achieve a high level of profitability and while currently challenged solid performance is projected in future years as MA is a scale business and these entities favorably contributed to top line. Although given current market conditions, while earnings are expected to improve in 2026, return to profitability is not expected to occur immediately. The year-end saw higher than expected claims volume due to growth reported through 2025. The group's year-end operating performance reflect pressure from government segment primarily MA, but was somewhat offset by Part D and supplemental accident & health (A&H) lines. The group of companies comprising this rating unit has posted a favorable revenue growth rate over the years and added approximately $1 billion of revenue over the past five-year period.

AM Best notes that consolidated underwriting and net income trends have been very challenged by changes to Medicare reimbursement and a higher-than-expected medical cost trend, both of which are expected to continue into 2026. Management is focused on premium optimization, Star ratings and risk payment, as well as cost and expense management and efficiencies across its various Medicare Advantage plans as a part of improving future performance. Investment income has been steady and will remain a meaningful contributor to net earnings.

Both 2023 and 2024 were challenging years for MA writers, and these trends continued to worsen in 2025. Emerging claims experience includes a pharmacy utilization uptick; medical cost inflation & macro environmental issues. There have also been pricing and reimbursement challenges with CMS STARS bonuses and risk-adjustment payments. HCSC is expected to bring the businesses back to profitability over time. However, overall underwriting income was unfavorable across the MA, Medicare supplement and other health lines as reported in 2024 and this trend continued in 2025. The company is making sizable investments in the business to achieve greater operational efficiency and further increase the value proposition of its MA and related supplemental health lines of business.

Profitability measures have historically remained solid over the years for the life entities in the group, but vary widely between the "Life/Health" (Blue book filers) and Health only statutory filings, with thinner profitability ratios reported in the health entities. While profitability measures have been pressured recently for MA writers, the other supplemental products modestly help provide a natural hedge as these products typically have been more favorable with stable results.

Business Profile

HCSC Medicare & Supplemental Group's core offerings are Medicare Advantage, Medicare Part D and Medicare Supplement products, which are offered across numerous states that are outside of the parent's core market. The group has exhibited consistent historical membership growth in its main markets driven by government business, primarily Medicare Advantage, Medicare supplement and Medicare Part D, and other supplemental accident & health (A&H) offerings, which should complement and bolster its diversification.

The business profile will be further enhanced by the offering of these diversified health insurance products. HCSC Medicare & Supplemental Group has exhibited consistent membership growth in its main markets driven by both government and supplemental health through 2025. The Medicare Advantage, Medicare supplement, Part D and other supplemental accident & health offerings should complement and bolster the overall organizations diversification.

The broader HCSC organization will have more of a nationwide presence with the addition of the Medicare Advantage & Supplement Group of companies. These entities will also contribute to elevating its market leading position in all five core states in which it operates, but to an even greater extent to its national footprint. HCSC Medicare & Supplemental Group has exhibited consistent membership growth.

A Best's Financial Strength Rating opinion addresses the relative ability of an insurer to meet its ongoing insurance obligations. The ratings are not assigned to specific insurance policies or contracts and do not address any other risk, including, but not limited to, an insurer's claims-payment policies or procedures; the ability of the insurer to dispute or deny claims payment on grounds of misrepresentation or fraud; or any specific liability contractually borne by the policy or contract holder. A Financial Strength Rating is not a recommendation to purchase, hold or terminate any insurance policy, contract or any other financial obligation issued by an insurer, nor does it address the suitability of any particular policy or contract for a specific purpose or purchaser.

A Best's Issue/Issuer Credit Rating is an opinion regarding the relative future credit risk of an entity, a credit commitment or a debt or debt-like security.

Credit risk is the risk that an entity may not meet its contractual, financial obligations as they come due. These credit ratings do not address any other risk, including but not limited to liquidity risk, market value risk or price volatility of rated securities. The rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold any securities, insurance policies, contracts or any other financial obligations, nor does it address the suitability of any particular financial obligation for a specific purpose or purchaser.
