Rating Rationale

Balance Sheet Strength: Strongest

- The risk-adjusted capitalization of Wellabe Group (Wellabe) as measured by Best's Capital Adequacy Ratio (BCAR) continues to be assessed in the strongest category at the 99.6% confidence level.
- Capital and surplus has continuously declined since 2021 due to new business strain in support of strategic growth.
- Wellabe maintains financial flexibility through its borrowing capacity under the Federal Home Loan Bank of Des Moines. The group has no debt and minimal operating leverage.
- Invested assets are mainly held in investment-grade fixed-income securities; however, Wellabe does maintain a high allocation to NAIC class 2 bonds. The group has modest exposure to equities and mortgage loans.

Operating Performance: Adequate

- Wellabe has reported strong premium growth over the past five years with a five-year compounded growth rate of 11.1% for net premiums written. Wellabe sustained year-over-year top-line growth in 2025 driven by its renewed approach to Medicare Supplement, organic growth of Preneed and Hospital Indemnity, and quota share business.
- Operating results over the past three years have been challenged due to new business strain, primarily from growth in Medicare Supplement and quota share business. Results are expected to remain unfavorable over the next few years as the group continues to grow the top line and Medicare Supplement business matures.
- Premium revenues have grown through year-end 2025, driven by historically high Medicare Supplement sales and steady growth in Preneed and Hospital Indemnity sales.

Business Profile: Neutral

- Wellabe's targeted niche market is in senior protection products. The organization has well-established and diverse distribution channels, and a geographic footprint over 40 states and the District of Columbia.
- Wellabe's primary in-force business product is Medicare Supplement, which is highly competitive. However, this is somewhat offset by the diversification added through its preneed, hospital indemnity, short-term care, and life and annuity markets.
- The group has refined its long-term strategy, focusing on innovation in its core product lines, as well as ancillary product expansion.

Enterprise Risk Management: Appropriate

- Wellabe has an appropriate enterprise risk management program for its risk profile. The program is developed, and there is a discernible risk culture, appetite, and tolerance throughout the organization.
- Wellabe has made enhancements to its enterprise risk management program in anticipation of triggering Own Risk Solvency Assessment compliance.
- Risk governance structure is managed by operational committees and overseen by the board of directors.
- Wellabe conducts a thorough access review exercise within and across systems; introducing new training and improved manager oversight of access permissions.

Outlook

- The stable outlooks reflect AM Best's expectation that the group will maintain the strongest category of balance sheet strength assessment, supported by its risk-adjusted capitalization that is expected to remain at the strongest level as measured by its BCAR. Operating performance is expected to produce near-term losses due to strategic business development and top-line growth driving new business strain, which is expected to diminish as business matures, returning to profitability in the medium term.

Rating Drivers

- Negative rating action could occur if operating losses exceed the group's projections.
- Negative rating action could occur if Wellabe's balance sheet metrics deteriorate significantly.
- While unlikely, positive rating action could occur if Wellabe reports a trend of profitable premium growth and margin expansion.

Credit Analysis

Balance Sheet Strength

Wellabe Group's (Wellabe) overall balance sheet strength assessed is strongest. Wellabe has generally maintained favorable balance sheet metrics over the past five years through year-end 2025. However, the group reported capital and surplus decreases for 2024 and

2025, related mostly to new business strain which is driving net losses. Nevertheless, the group continues to maintain the strongest level of risk-adjusted capital level as measured by Best Capital Adequacy Ratio (BCAR). A.M. Best anticipates that Wellabe will continue to maintain its risk-adjusted capital at the strongest level despite the expectation of earnings pressure in the near term as the company executes a strategic top-line growth plan.

Capitalization

Wellabe's risk-adjusted capitalization as measured by BCAR remains at the strongest level with a result of 67.3% at the 99.6 VaR. In 2025, The group's five-year compounded annual growth rate for total capital is negative at 2.9% mainly due to net losses. Nevertheless, statutory risk-based capital remains favorable for the group's main insurance entities, supporting the overall capital position of the group. Capital and surplus is expected to continue to be pressured due to continued strain from new business strain and net losses. Despite this, the group is expected to maintain the strongest level of risk adjusted capital as measured by BCAR.

Asset Liability Management - Investments

Wellabe and its insurance subsidiaries utilize outside investment management firms to advise, manage and monitor asset performance. The organization holds a diversified investment portfolio that has consistently contributed favorably to overall results. Fixed income holdings, primarily investment-grade with an average maturity of more than eleven years, comprise over eighty percent of invested assets as of year-end 2025. Public corporate issues comprise 53% with the remainder primarily in private corporates, MBS/CMBS, municipals, ABS, and CLOs. However, over a third of all bonds are private issues and 144A qualified securities, which can be less liquid than public issues. Non-investment grade fixed income securities make up a small amount of the overall bond portfolio and increased to 3.2% in 2025 from 2.7% in the prior year. The remainder of the overall portfolio consists of short-term investments, cash, stock, mortgage loans, real estate, and policy loans.

The quality of assets is impacted by the commercial mortgage loan exposure, which has generally declined over the past five years and accounted for approximately 6.2% of invested assets at year-end 2025. The mortgage portfolio is diversified by property type and geography and loan to value is less than 50%. The mortgage portfolio is actively managed and there have been no delinquencies or foreclosures over the past five years.

Wellabe maintains an adequate level of liquidity, based on AM Best's assessment of short and long-term liquidity, due to its allocation to publicly-traded securities, combined with cash and short-term investments. Furthermore, operating cash flow continues to be strong. A.M. Best believes the organization's liquidity position is appropriate for its current claim liabilities. Additionally, Wellabe is also a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Des Moines (FHLB) and through its membership has access to long-term and short-term advances. In addition to liquidity needs, the FHLB borrowings have also been used for arbitrage and operating leverage has remained at or below 5% over the past three years which is well below tolerance levels.

Reserve Adequacy

Wellabe holds nearly $2 billion in net reserves, the vast majority supporting the organization's life business. Life reserves are cash-flow tested and pass all cash flow and sensitivity tests. Additionally, the company's health reserves are stress-tested.

Operating Performance

The group's operating performance is assessed adequate. Earnings over the past three years have been pressured mainly due to new business strain, primarily from Medicare Supplement growth.

Wellabe's top-line growth has been sustained year-over-year, driven by efficiency improvements in their Medicare Supplement line of business, supported by organic growth in their preneed and hospital indemnity business. Additionally, Wellabe's offered benefits increased in line with block growth and operating trends. Despite this, operating expenses continue to be impacted due to variable costs associated with new business strain. Medicare Supplement sales in 2025 saw an increase driven by a competitive underwritten product and Wellabe's upgrades to their enrollment platform and application processes. Hospital Indemnity sales saw steady growth in 2025 driven by the inclusion of new product riders and the aforementioned upgrades to application processes. Furthermore, Wellabe expanded their product offerings for their Ancillary Health line, contributing to growth.

Wellabe's consolidated premium has reported growth since 2021 with a five-year compound annual growth rate at 11.1%. Near term net premium growth of 13.3% was reported for 2025. The year-over-year premium growth was driven by record breaking sales on their Medicare Supplement product and continued growth of preneed line of business, and quota share line.

Business Profile

Wellabe's business profile is assessed neutral. The group has a significant portion of its business in Medicare Supplement which is highly competitive. Business diversification has been bolstered by its preneed products. Further diversification was added through a new institutional reinsurance business that mostly assumes annuity and life blocks.

The organization traditionally has marketed under multiple brands including American Republic, Medico, and Great Western.

American Enterprise Group was formed in 2004 following the merger between the mutual holding company parents of American Republic Insurance Company (American Republic) and World Insurance Company (World). In 2013, American Republic completed a merger with World, with American Republic emerging as the surviving entity. In 2018, American Republic completed the acquisition of

Great Western Insurance Company (Great Western). In 2023, American Enterprise Group and its subsidiaries launched a unified brand under the name Wellabe to unite the organization with a consistent brand strategy. The name is not particular to a certain line of business, but appropriate to current and future lines of business. The name, which comes from the phrase "We'll always be," was selected to create meaningful differentiation from competitors and increase efficiencies by marketing under one umbrella brand. Wellabe Mutual Holding Company (WMHC) is the ultimate parent entity. American Republic is the lead insurance subsidiary under WMHC, . and American Republic wholly-owns American Republic Corp Insurance Company (American Republic Corp), Medico Corp Life Insurance Company (Medico Corp), Medico Life and Health Insurance Company (MLHIC), Medico Insurance Company (Medico), Great Western, and American Republic Insurance Services, LLC, (ARIS) a captive insurance agency. Sister companies of American Republic include Wellabe Services Company and Wellabe Ventures, LLC.

American Republic is the primary statutory entity of Wellabe and currently has a limited product portfolio. It is a licensed in the District of Columbia and all states except New York. American Republic currently reinsures 100% of the business written by American Republic Corp, Medico, Medico Corp, MLHIC, and Great Western not already ceded to other entities.

Wellabe is focused on providing solutions to help individuals 65 and older protect their health and financial well-being. Medicare Supplement is the organization's core health product line. Ancillary products include dental, short-term care, hospital indemnity, and critical illness. In addition, Wellabe is supporting its niche strategy through imported products sold via ARIS with larger, nationally recognized carriers. The partnerships include long-term care products, annuity products, term, universal and whole life, Medicare Prescription Drug (Part D), and Medicare Supplement products.

Additionally, Wellabe offers Preneed insurance to the senior market to fund funeral expenses. The company also maintains a small block of deferred annuities used to fund near-term funerals along with a group annuity offering as a funding vehicle for HSAs.

The acquisition of Great Western in 2018 diversified the group's business with the addition of the company's preneed products and HSA fund businesses. Great Western's distribution has remained in place and is licensed to operate in over 40 states and the District of Columbia. The company's operations are conducted via a general agency plan through direct funeral home agencies or third party-marketing agencies primarily offering limited pay whole life funeral coverage.

During 2021, American Republic executed a flow reinsurance (modco) treaty with Midwest Holding, Inc. (MHI) through American Life and Security Corp, launching its institutional reinsurance segment. It assumed on a modified coinsurance basis 20% of deferred annuity net written premium on certain MYGA and FIA products. In February 2023, American Republic ceased assumption of new flow for the American Life and Security Corp treaty. American Republic added a new flow deal on IUL sales written by Life Insurance Company of the Southwest (LSW), a subsidiary of National Life Group, from January 2023 through December 2025.

The organization created Wellabe Ventures to operate as a venture capital arm focused solely on innovation opportunities. The entity maintains dedicated resources and a disciplined approach committed to leveraging innovation to generate long-term business, customer value and employee engagement. Management is leveraging Wellabe Ventures to identify innovative solutions that help reshape operations and the products and services offered, including a member rewards platform they launched in 2025.

Innovation is embedded in the culture of the organization. Innovation is being leveraged by the company to generate long-term growth, streamline operations, reduce costs, create customer value and for employee engagement. In an effort to increase automation, efficiency, and provide cost benefits, the company now operates on a single cloud-based platform that makes it easy to deploy new applications and technologies as well as for better cybersecurity.

Enterprise Risk Management

Wellabe's Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) is assessed appropriate for its risk profile. The organization has a defined risk appetite statement and formalized ERM policy which is fully integrated throughout the organization. Key areas of focus include diversification, asset-liability management, cybersecurity, third-party risk, Model Audit Rule and ORSA preparedness.

The framework of the program is guided by the board of director's ERM policy and strategic business development focus to diversify the company's risk portfolio. The internal risk management committee comprised of senior management in all business segments performs regular risk assessments. The process is managed by the Chief Financial Officer and the Vice President of Risk Management. Wellabe maintains a recognizable risk culture throughout the organization. There is continuous review and revision, including annual "deep-dives" into each risk category and underlying Key Risk Indicators with the board of directors. The established risk management policy is reviewed and updated annually to ensure the company retains risks consistent with its mission, vision and values. Wellabe's risk appetite statement seeks to create profitable growth organically and through mergers, acquisitions, and strategic partnerships to position the organization for long-term viability. Profitability is gauged by risk-adjusted return on capital, growth opportunity, and the ability to drive value for customers. The program utilizes the COSO ERM framework.

Wellabe's program strategy is centered on monitoring multiple categories of risk and mitigation of these risks. The enterprise level controls include: strategic; product/underwriting/reinsurance; credit/market/concentration/liquidity; cyber; operational; financial statement/reserving; and legal/reputational. There are approximately 203 enterprise level controls and 190 Key Risk Indicators that are monitored.

Management and monitoring of cyber risk is a more prominent identified risk for the organization. Mitigation efforts continue to look to expand past prevention and are focused also on limiting exposure. Wellabe has a governance committee for cybersecurity and has cyber coverage.

Reinsurance Summary

New business written by Medico Insurance Company, Medico Life & Health Insurance Company, American Republic Corp Insurance Company, Medico Corp Life Insurance Company and Great Western Insurance Company are reinsured to American Republic Insurance Company. Reinsurance usage outside the group is modest.

Environmental, Social & Governance

Wellabe's ESG risks are low. ESG risks within the investment portfolio are evaluated through a third party with expertise in these assessments. Quarterly assessments are conducted on investment holdings and benchmarked with an industry index. Wellabe has undertaken a number of environmental initiatives to reduce their environmental impact. The organization has a focus on providing products and services to promote health and wellness. Community outreach and charitable giving as well as support of employees are

A Best's Financial Strength Rating opinion addresses the relative ability of an insurer to meet its ongoing insurance obligations. The ratings are not assigned to specific insurance policies or contracts and do not address any other risk, including, but not limited to, an insurer's claims-payment policies or procedures; the ability of the insurer to dispute or deny claims payment on grounds of misrepresentation or fraud; or any specific liability contractually borne by the policy or contract holder. A Financial Strength Rating is not a recommendation to purchase, hold or terminate any insurance policy, contract or any other financial obligation issued by an insurer, nor does it address the suitability of any particular policy or contract for a specific purpose or purchaser.

A Best's Issue/Issuer Credit Rating is an opinion regarding the relative future credit risk of an entity, a credit commitment or a debt or debt-like security.

Credit risk is the risk that an entity may not meet its contractual, financial obligations as they come due. These credit ratings do not address any other risk, including but not limited to liquidity risk, market value risk or price volatility of rated securities. The rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold any securities, insurance policies, contracts or any other financial obligations, nor does it address the suitability of any particular financial obligation for a specific purpose or purchaser.
